

Borgo Pignano ★★★★★

Perched on a hilltop with stunning views of the surrounding Tuscan landscapes, Borgo Pignano is an elegant and historic country retreat set on 750 acres of organic farmland, filled with a sense of nature and well-being. Along side the faithfully restored buildings in authentic Tuscan architecture, underscores Borgo Pignano's unequivocal philosophical commitment to sustainable tourism. This serene estate is the perfect backdrop for rest and relaxation with guests having plenty of leisure activities to choose from including spa treatments, yoga, horseback riding, hiking, biking, cooking classes, painting classes, visits to the organic farm, and the resort's rotating art exhibit.

Luciano Lusardi

◀ Personally, I admire someone who keeps their word. Luciano Lusardi is such a person. The first time I met Luciano a couple of years ago, he showed me around Borgo Pignano and explained with great excitement all the additions and improvements he was planning for this magnificent 750 acre estate. I was most impressed by his foresight and his fervor. I left Borgo Pignano with many notes and looking back today I am no longer surprised that everything that was planned by Luciano has come to fruition. Borgo Pignano today is among the finest resorts in Tuscany and Luciano's leadership and stewardship has defined it as the region's most "natural" property. To Luciano, everything that Borgo Pignano offers must be a natural expression of the land on which it sits.

Luciano has managed many luxury hotels and he owns a very impressive resume. But it is at Borgo Pignano where he can express luxury in a different way. Like me, Luciano's eyes glaze over when someone mentions 'corporate credos' and 'thread counts'! But watch his face light up when he talks about the pasta he serves at Borgo Pignano, which is made from the organic wheat that he grows at the estate. Luciano no longer sources bathroom amenities in luxury hotel shows in world capitals, he simply makes his own...at Borgo Pignano. This is a man on a mission and the mission is pure Tuscan bliss!
