

SINA Brufani ★★★★★

The SINA Brufani is a 5-star luxury hotel with classic Italian décor that is simply the best hotel in Perugia and it's just a leisurely two hour drive from both Rome and Florence. The hotel, built over Etruscan ruins still visible through the glass-bottomed swimming pool in the vaulted basement, is an institution in the town, hosting dignitaries and celebrities since 1884.

Stefano Chiesa

▲ Stefano Chiesa, is seriously one of the very nicest persons in the galaxy. Always willing to help, warm, hospitable and infinitely curious. That curiosity is what gives him that extra factor as the general manager of the venerable SINA Brufani. He is genuinely curious about people, places, experiences and he is always up for a conversation. I would add that you should want to have a conversation with Stefano because his iconic status in Perugia and its environs as well as his lifelong relationships in the area are a treasure. Walk the streets of Perugia, Assisi and the villages in the area and you will be amazed how many people know him.

Stefano is so proud of Perugia he possesses and impressive encyclopedic knowledge of it. Sitting in a prestigious location on the hilltop of Perugia is his palace, the unquestionably best hotel in the city. Stefano is a great general manager, a real gentlemen, a dear friend to the travel community and a pretty good chef as well!
