

The Fitzwilliam Hotel Belfast ★★★★★

The Fitzwilliam Hotel Belfast with its uniquely relaxed, comfortable character, stands discretely in the heart of Belfast city centre, next door to The Grand Opera House Theatre. A luxurious five-star boutique hotel, with 146 design-led guest rooms and suites, it is the epitome of style and excellence with incredible service, and a much-loved bar affectionately known as ‘The Fitz’ by locals. The hotel has just been awarded the ultimate accolade for UK hotels, being named Hotel of the Year in Northern Ireland 2019-2020, by Britain’s AA (Automobile Association).

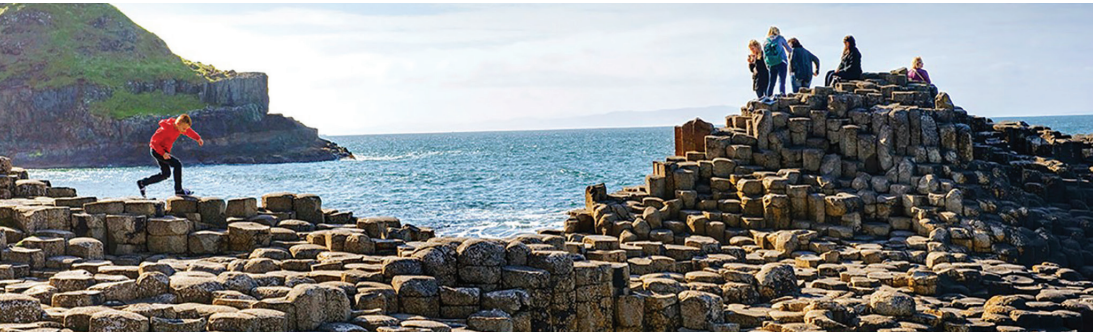

Janine Gelston & Cian Landers

◀ Cian Landers, recently voted General Manager of the Year in Northern Ireland’s Hospitality Awards, is the man leading the wonderful team of experienced professionals at The Fitzwilliam Hotel Belfast.

I’ve had the great pleasure of traveling with Cian as well as being hosted by him at The Fitzwilliam, and he is friendly, engaging and welcoming; with that unmistakable Irish warmth.

Cian has set consistently high standards and personally overseen the recent top to bottom renovations at the hotel which has made it the best hotel in the city, both in terms of the product offering and service levels. If I may suggest, staying at The Fitzwilliam and having Cian (or director of sales & marketing Janine Gelston – pictured opposite) look after you and your clients is the company you want to keep in Belfast.

MDV

“Thank you for an amazing stay and all you did to make it so wonderful. I love the hotel and my room was beautiful with amazing views of Belfast. It was the best trip ever and there is so much to do in Belfast and Northern Ireland. My clients are going to love it and I am excited to be sending them your way.”
