CORVARA

*“Welcome and hospitality. The traveler seeks simple pleasures.
At times there may be ambitious goals as pushing back the boundaries,
or adventurous dreams as crossing rivers and mountains
However what we essentially seek is a place where body and mind are at ease
In this sense we have our House
Here there is a great extended family
All working day after day to give vitality and purpose to one and all Values are cherished and there is much know-how Virtues we look to spread and share on an equal footing.
And as the mystical Persian poet wrote more than eight centuries ago,
“Travel as you are and take on the journey which is within you,
And the gold of the land shall be yours.”*

Nosta Tera, Nosta Vita

The Dolomites - a UNESCO World Heritage location amid stunning landscape.
Nestled in the quiet, cozy corner of Corvara village is Hotel La Perla, a family-run hotel renowned worldwide for its distinctive approach to hospitality, creating joyful and lasting guest relationships.

Ladin culture and traditions

In South Tyrol, Ladin is spoken by roughly 4% of the inhabitants; it is officially recognised as one of South Tyrol's three official languages. The Ladin people in the Dolomite region distinguish themselves also through a self-confident culture, which has grown for centuries and has its roots in mountain farming and craft work. The Ladins cherish and protect the appealing, strong and yet fragile mountain nature that surrounds them. Ladinia's typical architecture (Viles) represents the harmonious bond between people and countryside.

Costa Family and historic notes

The story began when Ernesto Costa, a ski instructor and plumber who was born in 1931, built a six-room house. Two generations of the Costa family have now run the hotel and they celebrate the Ladin tradition to the full and welcome the guest into a family setting which in its tradition, welcome, culinary aspects is a true manifestation of hospitality.

The three sons of Annie and Ernesto Costa, Michil, Mathias and Maximilian are all committed to maintaining this hospitality and together with a loyal team of staff their focus remains clear.

Rooms

Each bedroom is elegantly furnished with antique local furniture and boasts, among precious pieces, several collections of hats, walking sticks, latches, locks, teapots, cutting boards, lids, antique vests, etc.all meticulously looked after by Annie Costa and excellently preserved over the centuries.

Total rooms: 54

Double/twin Romantik: 33 • Double/twin Comfort: 10 • Double/twin Standard: 2 • Single rooms: 9

Possibility of interconnecting rooms, mostly with balcony.

Dining options

Les Stües restaurant

Style and comfort are the distinctive features of Les Stües, the half board restaurant, where the Ladin tradition and decor will add to your eating experience.

La Stüa de Michil

One Michelin star awarded since 2002. Here tradition meets innovation, always with respect for the best ingredients. Soft lights, fine centrepieces prepared daily by Mrs Costa, candles and local wood panelling make this restaurant a timeless jewel.

Bistrot Music club

‘Bistro’ is an Italian synonymous and we do our best in this instance to promote all that is good and genuine of the country, from the Mediterranean kitchen to South Tyrol.

Restaurant Ladinia

An alpine restaurant in the heart of the old village centre. One of the oldest, and with stunning view on Sassongher. The menu focuses on Alpine produce, local food taking pride of place in respect of mountain traditions.

L’Murin

A brewery with a large selection of beers from all over Europe, a meeting place made of music, soft lights, veranda and seats in the garden surrounding the house. In winter it turns into a very popular Après Ski, with lots of music at full volume and skiers of all ages who have a great time.

Mahatma wine cellar

Mahatma Wine is our much loved wine cellar. With thirty thousand bottles and three thousand labels the cellar is the centerpiece in this labyrinth of surprises not only associated with the world of wine, but of music, sound, senses, feelings.

Spa “Salus per Aquam”

The “Salus per aquam” – spa waters - completes the area dedicated to well-being. Here there is a wide range of regenerating treatments like the saunas, Turkish baths, Kneipp, hydro massage, swimming pool and last, but not least, our health and beauty experts will educate guests about regeneration using local cosmetics, natural products and mountain spa treatments.

Wedding

A dream come true. And the hotel does everything in its power to make it happen. Dedicated people will not only follow the couple one step at a time to reach their goals, but will also solve any problem and satisfy all needs. At La Perla nothing is left to chance: the objective is to free the couple from all worries and anxieties, offering the best possible conditions to spend a beautiful time with friends and guests.
