Horseback riding

Start the day riding to the top once again, an early start if you don't want to find crowds along the beach at Monolithos. If the full two-and-a-half-hour ride seems a little too much for you, ask to do the short ride of just an hour to the nearby beach at Exo Gonia. After your morning dash, visit Panagia Episkopi, the most important Byzantine monument on the island. A swim at Kamari and as soon as the sun begins to go down, a walk round Messa Gonia.

As you stroll through the ruins of houses deserted by the villages after the earthquake of 1956 you can still see some traces of their daily lives here. If there's time, make your way down to see the sunset from Faros-the lighthouse-at Akrotiri. Take the road on the other side of the mountain, which comes out at the Pyrgos crossroads, and continue towards Akrotiri. Instead of turning left into the village, go straight following the sights to the lighthouse (Faros).

Black Sand Beach

The Black Sand Beach is a place one needs to experience while on the island.

Mystique offers complimentary use of its private beach facilities in Perivolos. Access is very easy by car or taxi and the distance is approximately 40 minutes driving. A day on the beach soaking up the Aegean sun is de rigueur. Santorini is home to some spectacular beaches, such as Perivolos, which is located in the southeast of the island. It is known for its soft black sand and refreshing, deep blue waters. Stretch out on the complimentary towels and comfortable sun loungers and later, enjoy a sumptuous meal at secluded seaside restaurant Mr. E. Try out various water sports, play a game of beach volleyball and take a romantic stroll along its long shore, toward the rugged mountain of Mesa Vouno which rises up to the north. Speak with our concierge to arrange a transfer to the beach club.

Water sport events and scuba-diving

Water sports are available at the beach of Perivolos and can vary as follows: windsurfing, water-ski, paragliding, canoe, jet-ski, tubes etc.

Scuba-diving and snoreling

The Mediterranean Dive Club started operating in Santorini summer of 1998 as a fully organized diving center and we are proud to state one of the most up to date in the Cyclades islands. Located on Perissa beach, with the harbour and the dive sites just around the corner, the certified staff organizes speedboat diving, snorkeling or giving PADI courses.

It represents one of the most interesting experiences during the summer season. Diving in the Mediterranean, experiencing the big blue, watching new interesting animals, plants, lava formed bottoms, caves, drop offs; all in the crystal-clear waters surrounding Santorini and the Volcano Islands
